Gasaway Consulting Group, LLC, the parent company of Situational Awareness Matters is pleased to announce the offering of live VIRTUAL TRAINING. This Internet-based training program uses Zoom conference technology to allow an organization to train all of their employees on situational awareness and high-risk decision making for far less than what it would cost to host a live classroom event.

"We are extremely excited to offer this training option, especially for smaller organizations that would not have the budget to host a live classroom event and for organizations whose employees are dispersed throughout multiple locations" noted Dr. Richard B. Gasaway, President of Gasaway Consulting Group.

The program is interactive with live dialog between the presenter and the participants. For employees who are not able to attend the training live, a playback is available for 30 days to allow for make-ups.
